

⋮

Society for Student Philosophers

Annual Conference
University of Texas, Austin
March 1-2, 2008

Keynote Speaker: Thomas Scanlon, Harvard University

Alford Professor of Natural Religion, Moral Philosophy, and Civil Polity

Call for Papers

The Society for Student Philosophers (SSP) invites the submission of papers for possible presentation at their Annual Conference, hosted this year by University of Texas, Austin (Austin, Texas).

Papers should be philosophical in the broad sense of the term, showcasing student research and critical thinking at its best.

Authors must be of student status (e.g., not holding a Ph.D. and still pursuing their philosophical education) and papers must not be published or accepted for publication. Papers previously presented at SSP events are excluded from submission. Authors are allowed to simultaneously submit only one paper to each SSP event, and are not allowed to submit the same paper to two or more SSP events at once. Papers should be around 15 pages in length, and suitable for a 25 minute presentation.

Leave identifying references to the author out of the submitted paper, and include author information (address, institution, etc.) in the text of your email.

Unreadable or virus infected files will not be considered.

For more details on the conference, check out the SSP website:
<http://www.societyforstudentphilosophers.org/>

Please send your paper as an email attachment (Word or PDF file) to:

Scott Stroud, SSP Director, at: ssp\_conference@hotmail.com

Deadline: November 1, 2007

⋮